Process for the Selection of Members for the Superintendent's Equity Council

On December 3, 2019, the Superintendent convened a nominating committee consisting of the district's four licensed special education providers as well as three staff members representing food services, STARS reporting, and the district business office.

This committee was provided the list of students with disabilities as well as the list of students qualifying for free lunch (as a proxy for economically disadvantaged status) and was asked to nominate one student and one parent from each list, provided that none of these nominees may be a current district employee nor an immediate family member of any current district employee.

The committee was also asked to nominate one school leader, one staff member, and one community member to serve on the equity council.

On December 16, 2019, the Logan Board of Education approved these seven nominees, appointing the two students and two parents to serve 3-year terms on the council and appointing the three other nominees to serve 4-year terms on the council.

Logan Equity Council Members:

Preston Bongers (student)
Jenna Stewart (student)
Tryndi Cox (parent)
Amanda Rachor (parent)
Crystal Burns (school leader)
April Stone (staff member)
Lynn Birch (community member)
